Cash Prize to the Best Invention

► Geneva, April 15 –The President of International Federation of Inventors' Associations (IFIA), Alireza Rastegar, awarded IFIA Cash Prize to Gilbert Sonnay for his invention titled 'Apparatus for Treating Drinking Water' showcased during the 44th International Exhibition of Inventions of Geneva.

This award was in line with IFIA main objectives which are to support the individual inventors, contribute to the realization of their products, encourage the participation of inventors and generally nurture the culture of invention and innovation.

The apparatus which is invented to treat the drinking water produces salt and chemical free ingredients and causes no loss of water. It was evaluated by the Jury Board according to the pre-established criteria and elected as the best invention.
